In this application, the claims being examined are the claims amended by article 34 in the PCT application which this is a 371 of (i.e. amended sheet under article 34 dated 21/01/2006 which incorporated the subject matter of original claim 5 into claim 1 and renumbered original claims 6 and 7 to 5 and 6, respectively). It should be noted, however, that the amendment above is not defined in a proper format according to U.S. practice and it is requested that applicants submit this amendment to the original claims consistent with current U.S. practice.

Claim 2 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c), as being of improper dependent form for failing to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim. Applicant is required to cancel the claim(s), or amend the claim(s) to place the claim(s) in proper dependent form, or rewrite the claim(s) in independent form.

This claim does not further define the product in terms of its structure or compositional, background.

Claims 5-6 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim cannot depend from any other multiple dependent claim. See MPEP § 608.01(n). Accordingly, the claims 5-6 have not been further treated on the merits.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

> A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --
> (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

> (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or in the alternative under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Chen et al. (680).

Chen et al. teaches in the abstract, column 6, lines 56-57, column 9, line 48 and claim 13, diamond particles coated with a carbide inner layer (titanium) and an outer layer of a metal (tungsten).

The claimed invention is anticipated by the reference because the reference teaches a diamond particle coated with the claimed layers and as is apparent from claim 13 and/or column 9, lines 36-50, the outer tungsten coating is not carbided. Assuming arguendo, column 7, lines 6-15 states that "it is preferred that the second layer does not completely carbide...if the outer portion partially or completely carbides" and this would suggest to the skilled artisan that the second (metal) layer does not have to be carbided because "preferably" and "if" do not specifically defined otherwise. Furthermore, even if the second layer was carbided (examiner is not agreeing with this, as the reference would suggest otherwise), the intermediate product prior any heat treatment needed to form a carbide, reads on the claimed product because the intermediate product does not have a carbided second layer (tungsten).

Claim 2 is a product by process claim which provide no patentable distinction to the product. Applicants use process limitations to define the product and "product-by-process" claims do not patentably distinguish the product even though made by a different process. In re Thorpe 227 USPQ 964.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by EP 532261.

The EP reference teaches in the abstract, page 3, lines 17-18 and the claims, boron nitride particles coated with a primary layer (nitride or boride inner layer (titanium)) and an outer layer of a metal (tungsten).

The claimed invention is anticipated by the reference because the reference teaches a diamond particle coated with the claimed layers.

Claim 2 is a product by process claim which provide no patentable distinction to the product. Applicants use process limitations to define the product and "product-by-process" claims do not patentably distinguish the product even though made by a different process. In re Thorpe 227 USPQ 964.

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-4 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-6 of copending Application No. 10/586,307. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the reduction to practice of the copending claims would render obvious the instant claims.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

The additional references cited on the 1449 (and search report) have been reviewed by the examiner and are considered to be art of interest since they are cumulative to or less than the art relied upon in the above rejections.

Any foreign language documents submitted by applicant has been considered only to the extent of the short explanation of significance, English abstract or English equivalent, if appropriate.
